Investment strategy

SKAGEN Focus is a high conviction equity fund that seeks to generate long-term capital growth by investing in a portfolio of global companies across the market capitalisation spectrum, with the majority of exposure invested in small and mid-cap companies. Subscriptions are made in fund units and not directly in stocks or other securities. The benchmark reflects the fund's investment mandate. Since the fund is actively managed, the portfolio will deviate from the composition of the benchmark.

Monthly commentary, July 2025

Global equity markets extended gains in July, led once again by US mega-cap tech stocks on solid earnings at the end of the month, which partly overshadowed continued momentum in other market areas, such as South Korea and Europe. A new US trade deal with the EU and Japan lifted sentiment, but extended tariffs elsewhere revived inflation worries.

Strong contributors to fund performance during the month included our automotive supplier Forvia, which delivered a solid set of numbers on the back of restructuring activities and improved margins combined with strong order intake from Chinese Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEMs).

French homebuilder Nexity rebounded sharply, with the first half of the year returning to a positive operating profit, driven by a strong rebound in homebuyer demand as lower rates start to impact positively. The company has also made aggressive cost cuts and reaffirmed its full-year guidance. Our South Korean positions performed solidly in the month and our regional bank position iM Financial re-rated strongly to our price target range. We reduced the position considerably on the back of this.

Negative contributors included South Korean construction company DL E&C, which gave back some of its solid gains for the year. UK listed steel equipment maker Vesuvius delivered a weak set of earnings, reflecting overall continued depressed demand in end-markets, while we see the mid-term earnings potential being largely ignored by the market at these valuation levels.

As we are guided by value, the portfolio currently has a limited allocation to the US equity market and significant exposure to heavily discounted European small and mid-cap stocks.

Sustainability

SKAGEN's approach to sustainability

Our ESG approach is built on four pillars. In keeping with SKAGEN's active investment philosophy, our sustainability activities centre on active engagement with our holding companies, which is where we believe we can have the greatest impact. We recognise, however, that the full potential of a sustainable investment strategy is best realised when combining the following four pillars.

- ✓ Exclusion
- ✓ Enhanced due diligence
- ✓ ESG factsheet
- ✓ Active ownership
