

Performance Commentary

Despite a mid-month wobble on concerns regarding rising inflation and the longer-term rate outlook, global equity markets continued their ascent in May. Economic data continues to surprise on the upside as vaccine rollout and re-opening remain in focus. SKAGEN Kon-Tiki performed in line with the market, primarily driven by continued strength in Indian crop solutions company UPL, which reported a strong set of full-year results and provided upbeat guidance. UPL is well placed to benefit from improving farmer economics on rising commodity prices. The recent split of Brazilian retailer CBD into separate cash & carry and food retail listings has unlocked significant shareholder value and the shares continued to rise on expectations of further corporate restructuring. Unfortunately, the split of Korean holding company LG Corp did not unlock similar value as both LG Corp and LX Holdings fell sharply on resumption of trading. We see potential for a reversal as shareholders position into their preferred vehicles and we get more clarity on capital allocation and shareholder return priorities. Brazilian pulp producer Suzano fell on fears of a cyclical peak in prices. We continue to see material upside to the shares and welcome the recently announced capacity expansion. We made only minor portfolio adjustments in May, most notably exiting Bank of China and shifting our energy exposure from shipping company Euronav to Chinese E&P company CNOOC.

The fund selects low-priced, high-quality companies, mainly in emerging economies.

The objective is to provide the best possible risk adjusted return.

The fund is suitable for those with at least a five year investment horizon.
