Investment strategy

SKAGEN Kon-Tiki is a value-based emerging markets equity fund. It seeks to generate long-term capital growth through an actively managed, high conviction portfolio of companies which are listed in, or have significant exposure to, developing markets. Subscriptions are made in fund units and not directly in stocks or other securities. The benchmark reflects the fund's investment mandate. Since the fund is actively managed, the portfolio will deviate from the composition of the benchmark.

Monthly commentary, April 2025

April was characterised by heightened volatility stemming from escalating global trade tensions notably triggered by President Trump's 'Liberation Day' announcement, which marked a significant escalation in US-China trade disputes. The announcement by the US administration of additional tariffs on Chinese imports, coupled with retaliatory measures from China, exacerbated investor concerns over an extended trade conflict. However, markets demonstrated resilience overall as most equity indices ended the month in positive territory. Emerging Markets equities modestly outperformed Developed Market equities during the month.??

SKAGEN Kon-Tiki delivered another robust relative performance in April, outperforming its benchmark, driven predominantly by stock-specific developments. Top contributors for the month included Brazilian cash-and-carry retailer Assai, South Korean financial institution Hana Financial Group, and Latin American retailer Walmex. Assai benefited from improving investor sentiment towards Brazilian equities. Although the market anticipates one additional interest rate hike by Brazil's central bank this year, the global trade tensions may accelerate the timeline for future monetary easing. Additionally, Brazil could potentially benefit indirectly from the trade disputes as China, its largest trading partner, decreases its reliance on US agricultural imports. Hana Financial Group reported strong quarterly earnings, with management indicating plans to accelerate its ongoing share buyback programme and potentially pursue further repurchases. Consequently, we continue to view Hana Financial's shares as highly attractive at current valuation levels. Walmex capitalised on robust equity market performance in Mexico, benefitting from its exemption from the newly introduced reciprocal tariffs in April. Positive signals regarding ongoing negotiations between the US and Mexican administrations further supported the stock. Walmart's quarterly results were solid, once again demonstrating superior growth compared to peers, despite challenging market conditions.?

On the negative side, the primary detractors in April were Brazilian energy major Petrobras, global energy conglomerate TotalEnergies, and Chinese e-commerce leader Alibaba. Petrobras and TotalEnergies declined due to weakening energy prices. Alibaba's stock retraced some of the gains achieved earlier this year, a period during which we had already reduced our position.?

We did not make any new investments or exit any holdings during April. However, we capitalised on the sharp correction in Taiwan's Information Technology sector by increasing our positions in Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Company (TSMC) and Hon Hai Technology Group. TSMC reported robust quarterly earnings, reaffirmed its full-year guidance, and explicitly noted that the company had not experienced any change in its customers' behaviour.??

The current investment environment presents several challenges, with the macroeconomic outlook perceived as unusually uncertain. Nevertheless, our long-term, value-oriented, bottom-up investment philosophy does not rely heavily on macro predictions and certainty. We continue to look for undervalued companies with clear company-specific triggers for a revaluation, while maintaining a diversified and balanced portfolio across geographies, sectors and fundamental drivers. The fund's long-term track record suggests that some of its best investments have been made at times of significant uncertainty. Our long-term focus and contrarian disposition remain the key ingredients in uncovering these opportunities. With the SKAGEN Kon-Tiki portfolio trading at less than 8x this year's expected earnings and at a discount to book value, we believe that it offers a compelling risk/reward proposition and see no fundamental reason why it should not close its significant valuation gap to the MSCI EM index.?
